Pulling up behind a car at a stoplight one day, the bumper sticker of the car ahead caught my eye.... it said :

EXPECT MIRACLES

My immediate reaction was “Oh wow ! What a great message!!!”

The friend with whom I was driving just muttered “Yeah... right...”

I am quite sure if something EXTRA-ordinary were to have occurred as we waiting for the light to turn – a person stepping out of that car and starting to fly around perhaps? – she would have been impressed with the “miracle” ... but clearly, she wasn’t expecting any to happen.

That made me think of a great C.S.Lewis quote:

“ Miracles are a re-telling in small letters of the very same story which is written across the whole world in letters too LARGE for some of us to see ...”

It’s a matter of perspective. A ho-hum approach to daily living will rarely produce an experience of the miraculous – BUT – seeing each day through the lens of wonder and awe and GRATITUDE – can produce the opposite result.

In short, if you EXPECT miracles – as experiences of the “extraordinary within the ordinary” – you start seeing them everywhere ... You just have to put on the right glasses! 😊

“In the everyday miracles of everyday life
God is sending you guidance and grace ...
In the simplest of blessings you miss everyday
You can capture a glimpse of God’s Face...”
